Celebrating Faculty Excellence: A Year of Distinctiveness

The academic year 2021-22 will be remembered as a testament to our unwavering commitment to faculty development and scholarly engagement. At the heart of this achievement lies the tireless dedication of our faculty members who exemplify excellence in academia. During this exceptional year, 14 of our esteemed teachers embarked on a collective journey of self-improvement, investing a cumulative total of 231 days in rigorous faculty development programs. These endeavors not only enriched their own pedagogical practices but also cascaded benefits throughout our academic community.

Furthermore, our faculty's scholarly pursuits reached new heights, with a remarkable tally of 21 national and international seminars where they shared their insights and research findings. Their contributions to these academic fora not only elevated the prestige of our institution but also facilitated knowledge dissemination on a national/international scale.

In addition to their prolific seminar presentations, our faculty members demonstrated their scholarly prowess by publishing three research papers in esteemed journals. These publications underscore our commitment to advancing knowledge and fostering intellectual inquiry.
